Welcome.

Hello,

You are landed to encyclopedia of experiments, research around software, application and programming.

This resource is intention to maintain as desktop reference and note taking and producing system.

Mostly shelves will descibe their content by names.

Personally, I journal what I have faced, completed, challanged in journal.

Hopefully you will find reading, educating yourself a straightforward journey.

It took my some hours/days to figure out, it is all yours. Gratitudes and appreciation are welcomed (contact me, if you would like to express ones).
